Kallista has expanded its Vir Still collection of vanities with a 24-in. x 23-in. x 33<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>-in. model that is finished in figured black walnut or white lacquered wood on the bottom and topped with a stone counter in white Calacatta Borghini marble or mottled gray Grigio limestone (shown). The petite unit comes with a square undermount sink in brass or stucco white, an interior shelf and a metal base and legs. The metal base is offered in polished chrome, nickel silver, brushed nickel and bronze. Circle No. 232

Franke has unveiled FF600 (shown) and FF700, a pair of bridge faucets available in chrome, Old World bronze, polished and satin nickel. Both are formed of solid brass in California and Vermont lead requirements and come with side-spray and handcrafted handles in a classic lever or a tonal-style winged design. Coordinating potfillers, as well as soap dispenser, are also available. Circle No. 234

Bradco's Slide N Hide is a remote-controlled sliding countertop. When extended, it provides an additional 4 ft. of counter space and, when closed, minimizes visual clutter in the kitchen by concealing the cooktop. Available with a variety of cooktop brands, the countertop can be specified in a wide array of materials, including stainless steel, butcher block and natural stone.

EuroChef has introduced the Verona line of 30-in. and 36-in. ranges. Available in stainless steel, matte black, burgundy (shown) or antique white/taupe, the units are equipped with 17,000-Btu sealed burners, electronic ignition, a multifunction programmable oven with European convection, an infrared broiler, a touch-control digital clock and timer and a thermostatically controlled warming drawer or storage compartment. Circle No. 233
